Ministry Purpose: An annual collection of clothing and blankets is held for the Navajo Indians of New Mexico. The items go to the resale shop at the St. Bonaventure Mission.

Activities: Clothing, blankets, and small household goods are collected on one weekend in November. In 2009 the donation requests were expanded to include small appliances, household linens, and furniture. A former STM Parishioner used to donate money to the mission for renting a truck to transport the items to New Mexico.

Number of Participants:

Challenges: Without the donation of money to the St. Bonaventure Mission to cover the truck rental, this project would probably not continue.

Special Needs from Parish: Publicity to obtain donations
