A Spirituality for Liturgical Ministers

Not too long ago, ministry was understood to be the business of bishops, priests, and those in religious life. It was also not too long ago that we discovered that ministry was everywhere and belonged to everyone. We learned that ministry is the work appropriate to all who are baptized in the mystery of Christ Jesus: "If we have died with Christ, we believe that we are also live with him" (Romans 6:8), and if we are to live with him, then we are also to work with him.

We speak of the "ministry of the baptized" as the primordial Christian ministry. In the celebration of baptism, the one who anoints and seals with the gift of the Holy Spirit addresses these words to the neophytes:

My dear newly baptized, born again in baptism, you have become members of Christ and of his priestly people. . . . The promised strength of the Holy Spirit, which you are to receive, will make you more like Christ and help you to be a witness to his suffering, death, and resurrection. It will strengthen you to be active members of the church and to build up the Body of Christ in faith and love.

Moments after we are born again in the waters of baptism, we are charged to take up the priestly ministry of Jesus. We are named as witnesses to the whole of Christ's paschal mystery: his suffering, dying, and rising.

How we live out this ministry of the baptized is in some ways the same for all of us and in some ways different for all of us. The sameness consists in the work of all Christians to give thanks and praise to God for all that is given to us, especially for that justice which is ours in Christ. We live out our thanksgiving by doing the work of justice in our communities, our nation, and in the world. The difference lies in how each of the baptized is called by God.

In addition to the vocational ministries (e.g., married life and single life of personal ministry, vowed life, sacramental leadership), there is a variety of particular ministries in the life of the church. The whole church thrives on a network of ministries. Those in one ministry serve their sisters and brothers in another, who in turn serve those who serve them. Such complementarity is the genius of our life together.

As active members of the church, we are called to our particular ministries to serve one another, to be served by one another, in relationship a members of a blessed whole, the Body of Christ. When we enter the waiting embrace of the baptized community, we are enmeshed with Christ's body, the church, and the mesh is one of mutual service.

Let us go in peace to love and serve the Lord. Thanks be to God! ♦
