Prayer of Dedication

We continue to move forward with all of our plans as we near the beginning of the construction for our Permanent Church and Parish Offices.

As our dreams continue to become reality, I encourage you to pray for the success of our project. We must place all in God's hands.

I invite you to pray this Prayer of Dedication on a regular basis. It is the prayer that the Bishop will pray as the altar in our Church will be consecrated:

Father in heaven,
source of holiness and true purpose,
it is right that we praise and glorify your name.

For today we come before you
to dedicate to your lasting service
this house of prayer,
this temple of worship,
this home in which we are nourished
by your word and your sacraments.

Here is reflected the mystery of the Church.

The Church is fruitful,
made holy by the blood of Christ:
a bride made radiant with his glory,

a virgin splendid in the wholeness of her faith,
a mother blessed through the power of the Spirit.

The Church is holy,
your chosen vineyard:
its branches envelop the world,
its tendrils, carried on the tree of the cross,
reach up to the kingdom of heaven.

The Church is favored,
the dwelling place of God on earth:
a temple built of living stones,
founded on the apostles
with Jesus Christ its cornerstone.

The Church is exalted,
a city set on a mountain:
a beacon to the whole world,
bright with the glory of the Lamb,
and echoing the prayers of her saints.

Lord, send your Spirit from heaven
to make this church an ever-holy place,
and this altar a ready table for the sacrifice of Christ.

Here may the waters of baptism overwhelm the shame of sin;
here may your people die to sin
and live again through grace as your children.

Here may your children, gathered around your altar,
celebrate the memorial of the Paschal Lamb,
and be fed at the table of Christ's word and Christ's body.

Here may the prayer, the Church's banquet,
resound through heaven and earth
as a plea for the world's salvation.

Here may the poor find justice,
the victims of oppression, true freedom.

From here may the whole world,
clothed in the dignity of the children of God,
enter with gladness your city of peace.

We ask this through our Lord Jesus Christ, your Son,
who lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit,
one God, for ever and ever.

Amen.

F. Mike

Peter's Pence Collection for the Holy Father

The annual Peter's Pence Collection enables Pope Benedict XVI to offer emergency assistance to those suffering because of war, oppression, and natural disasters. The theme of the collection this year is Cast the Peace of Christ upon the World. Through works of charity, Catholics provide a quiet but powerful witness of love and deeds to empower the weak, the defenseless, and the voiceless, and to sustain those who suffer.

Envelopes are attached to the bulletin this week, and you may return them any time during the month of June. Your prayerful consideration and generosity are much appreciated!

NO DOWNSIZING IN GOD'S ECONOMY

Scripture themes for June

by Patricia Datchuck
Sánchez and Rafael
Sánchez Alonso,
excerpted from
Celebration
June 2012.

with permission.

The downward spiral in the economy in recent years has made life harder for countless people throughout the world. Many seemingly rock-solid companies—and even some countries—have gone bankrupt. Many once well-to-do individuals whose livelihoods have been affected by outsourcing and downsizing are now struggling to make ends meet. Those of modest income are suffering the loss of their homes to foreclosure and can no longer make their car payments. Unable to meet monthly expenses, many have dropped their health insurance and are dipping too deeply into their dwindling savings. For the unemployed, procuring even basic necessities is a daily challenge.

For all who struggle economically, a visit to the local grocery store only compounds the frustration. There are blatant instances of downsizing on every store aisle. For example, a half gallon of orange juice has been reduced from 64 ounces to 59. A 7- or 8-ounce can of tuna has shrunk to 4.5 ounces. What used to be 16 ounces of bacon is now 12. Cans of vegetables once 16 ounces are now 14.5. Tissues that once numbered 100 to 120 a box are now 80. Rolls of toilet paper are now one inch less wide. With all this downsizing, one might expect reduced costs, but prices continue to soar even as products continue to shrink.

Fortunately, there is another economy that assures the security and the well-being of all humankind, regardless of their monetary circumstances. Theologians refer to this plan as the economy of salvation: God, as oikoumene or steward of the universe, has chosen to be fully and intimately invested in the human condition so that every person might realize their fullest potential and, at the same time, reflect ever more perfectly the image of the God in whose likeness each is created.

At the heart of this economy is a wondrous transaction—God provides the means of salvation through Jesus. Believers, for their part, accept and appropriate God's gift and Jesus' efforts through faith. New York Times bestselling author Matthew Kelly encourages believers to embrace what he calls the "adventure of salvation," not only for their own sake but for the sake of a world whose suffering, oppressed, and persecuted people long to be saved, redeemed, healed and forgiven, liberated, and sanctified (The Rhythm of Life, Simon and Schuster, New York: 1999).

But how will this salvation come, if not through our cooperation with God in Jesus? When will salvation be experienced in Syria, in Chad, in the Sudan, in Haiti? Answers to these questions, solutions to salvation lie within the grasp of those who know God's grace and unending willingness to save.

Last Sunday, May 27, the praying community celebrated the gift of the Holy Spirit. On the first two Sundays of June, we celebrate the gifts of the Trinity and the Eucharist, a divine trifection to be sure! Although these three feasts memorialize profound theological mysteries, these sacred realities become simple in the experience of them. God loves extravagantly as Father; God loves and gives life to those he loves as Son; and, through the gift of the immeasurable and uncontainable Spirit, God lavishly breathes the divine presence into every good and bad moment and into every happy and hurting heart. Through the Trinity, God has made manifest a holy hospitality toward every human person; we are forever a part of the very circle of God. We are children of God, siblings of Jesus and holy places where the Spirit chooses to live and move and breathe forever. In this economy, all thrive, all grow, all prosper.

This is already an embarrassment of riches, and God gives us even more. God has also chosen to nurture us with the living bread from heaven, i.e., with Jesus, in his body and in his word. Through the gift of Eucharist, we become table-mates at a feast where food is never scarce, love is never wanting and no one is turned away.

Graced by these gifts, we are empowered to bear the good fruit of care, of justice, of sharing and of truth-telling. The seeds of these good actions have already been sown in us by God (June 17). We are also encouraged to follow the lead of John the Baptizer (June 24), who, in accord with God's economy of salvation, led others to see, to know, to believe in, and to follow Jesus. If we invest in this same economy, we will know and experience the riches of God without measure and without end.

Christian Stewardship How Do We Respond to Change?

Change is occurring all the time, but being sensitive to it is necessary to be able to respond to it. As an agent of change, realize that there is an ongoing need to wake up before it's too late.

If you put a frog in a pot of cold water and then gradually turn up the heat, the frog won't jump out and will ultimately be boiled to death. He is capable of jumping out, yet the urgency or change in the situation fails to stir him into action.

If we could change the world, how would we want to go? For or against God?

So, then, if we pretend to care for God at all, we must accept God on God's terms, not our own. And the adjustments we make to accommodate our giving only serve to make the giving more worthwhile.

I can't change the world. But I can do my own small share. Many calls come to us for our time, talent, and treasure.

Do we respond to these calls on the personal level, family level, church level, community level?

Do we act as an agent of change to make the world a better place?

We know that God has given us the time we have on earth . . . each minute, each hour, each day.

But how often do we think about returning to God a portion of the time given to us?

How often do we consciously strive to use our time in expressions of love of God and our neighbor, in helping others, in church work., in assisting Christ's ministry on earth?

The Divorce Healing Ministry of St. Luke's Parish invites those going through a separation and divorce to a 12-week program of recovery entitled, The Catholic's Divorce Survival Guide. Our support group meets on the first and third Tuesdays, from 7:00-9:00pm at the Church of St. Luke, 1980 Hillside Rd., El Cajon. You can start and end the series at any time. No charge. The Bishops' Letter on Marriage—Society's Challenges: “We recognize that couples face many challenges to building and sustaining a strong marriage. Some challenges, however, are fundamental in the sense that they are directed at the very meaning and purposes of marriage. (Here) we want to discuss four such challenges: contraception, same-sex unions, divorce, and cohabitation.” To read the document go to <http://www.usccb.org/loveandlife/>.

Marriage Moments—Marriage is not so much a matter of finding the right partner as being the right partner. Although some people have a natural talent for relationships some skills can be learned.

Have fun going barefoot for a day or an hour this week, but remember that some kids don't have any shoes. Check out Soles4Souls on the internet to see how you can help.
